Productive Capacity Will Be Very Much Increased.

President's Thanksgiving Day Party-British Commission Calls on Him.

IBY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.1 WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—George E. Roberta, the Director of the Mint, in his annual report says that the colnage mints at Philadelphia, New Orleans and San Francisco were New Orleans and San Francisco were in operation throughout the fiscal year. In number of pieces, the coinage of the year has never been exceeded, aggregating 191,419,506, but in value it has failen from $136,340,781 in 1991, to $94,526,671, this being due to the greater demand for the small denominations. Gold coinage dropped from $99,065,715 to $61,980,572, but the stock of gold bullion on hand increased from $100,219,493 to $124,083,712. The coinage of silver dollars amounted to $19,402,800; subver dollars amounted to $19,402,800; sub-492 to $124,083,712. The coinage of sli-ver dollars amounted to $19,402,809; sub-sidiary silver coins to $10,713,769, and minor coins to $2,429,726. The original gold deposits of the year amounted to $132,580,839. Gold bars taken for export amounted to $36,332,-678, and for domestic consumption to $14,452,678. The gross expenditures on account of the mint service including $14,452,578. The gross expenditures on account of the mint service, including loss of wastage in operating upon the metals, was $1,910,503. The earnings from all charges and incidental gains, exclusive of seignorage, aggregated $257,568. The seignorage, realised in the manufacture of 1 and 5-cent pieces amounted to $1,919,370, and the total seigniorage accruing on the silver, nickel and bronze coins made in the year was $11,013,856, which was turned into the general fund of the treasury. The capacity of the mint at 8an Francisco is being increased by the introduction there of methods and equipment that have proven successful in Philadelphia.

The director says that the increased ful in Philadelphia.

The director says that the increased capacity of the mints at Philadelphia and San Francisco, and the prospective opening of the new mint at Denver will give the country a much greater coinage capacity than it has heretofore coinage capacity than it has heretofore had, while on the other hand, the pressure on the mints is almost ready to relax, instead of increase. The coinage of 1,500,000 silver dollars permonth now required by law, will come to an end soon by the exhaustion of the stock of buillion. This requirement now calls for the entire capacity of the New Orleans mint. When the dollar coinage ceases, that mint will be idle unless work is diminished at Philadelphia and San Francisco to give it report says it is not advisable to reduce still further its operations in order to supply work for New Orleans. It accordingly is recommended that coinage operations be discontinued at the latter institution at the close of the current fiscal year, and that it be conducted hereafter as an assay office.

If coinage operations are now discontinued at New Orleans so much of the machinery there as is in good condition and of approved design can be trans-machinery there as is in good condition and of approved design can be trans-ferred to the new Denver mint and the estimates for equipment there corre-spondingly reduced.

Attention is called to the fact that

Attention is called to the fact that the gold coinage of the country is now entering almost entirely into storage, and that the coinage of the entire annual deposits is unnecessary. The treasury holds about $500,000,000 of coined gold, which, the report says, is doubtless more than will be called for a generation to come. Practically all in a generation to come. Practically all of the current coinage is being deposited in the treasury for certificates.
When gold is required for export it is vanted in bars, while for don culation the public prefers the treasury certificates, which, with some modifi-cations of the statutes, might as well be issued against bars.

Under the limitation placed on the Under the limitation placed on the stock of subsidiary silver coin by the act of March 14, 1900, no more of these demands can be issued, while the demand is regular and must continue with the growth of population and business. The director sees no occasion for a limit on the stock of subsidiary coin, inasmuch as its issue and retirement is wholly automatic, in response to the needs of the business.

"More and more, as our modern industrial programme goes on, there is a tendency to work in federation or combination, both among employers and among employes, in corporations and in unions; and, of course, gentlemen, among the reasons why I take a very great interest in these combinations is the very fact that by their power they have such great possibilities for good—which necessarily implies that they have also great possibilities for evil. Whether you wish them or not, it is idle, in my opinion, to protest against the inevitable tendency of the times toward both corporation and union. It is worse than folly to take exceptions to either corporation or union, as such. The line should be drawn on conduct.

ESSEN (Prussia) Nov. 26.—(By Atlantic Cable.) The presence of Emperor William at Herr Krupp's burial today was designed by His Majesty to show his absolute disbellet in the accusations that caused the gun manufacturer's death. A statement was issued that the Emperor was indignant at the cruelty and malice of the Social Democratic charges, and He is said to have personally expressed his feeling in the matter to Rev. Mr. Clingmann, who delivered the first of the two funeral sermons.

'By Emperor William's side was the Ty Emperor William's side was the cousin of the deceased, Arthur Krupp, and Gen. Von Bissing. Then came Baron Von Rheinhaben, the Finance Minister; Herr Moeller, Minister of Commerce; Admiral Von Tirpits, Secretary of the Admirally; Gen. Budde, Minister of Public Works; Gen. Von Plessen, Gen. Von Loewenfeld, Gen. Von Huelsen-Haessier, Dr. Von Lucanus, Chief of the Civil Cabinet; Admiral Von Selden-Bibran and a very large company of other distinguished persons, including the burgomasters of adjacent cittes and great manufacturers from all parts of Germany. About four thousand of the Krupp workmen were drawn up on either side of the route. Prince Henry of Prussia was represented by Commander Von Schmidthurger.

Liveried servants bore behind the hearse, on velvet cushions, the orders conferred on Herr Krupp by sovereigns all over the world.

The city was hung in black, and the street lamps were alight and hooded with crepe.

The cuy street lamps were alight and with crepe.

At the cemetery as the coffin was lowered into the vault beside that of the deceased's father, Emperor William saluted and a great chorus of workingmen's singing societies chant-

Then folowed two funeral orations.

Rev, Kilgemann, superintendent of the synod, the highest ecclesiastic of the State Church in the province said:

"Friederiche Alfred Krupp was a good man. The heritage of a good man fell into good hands. He was of unusual purity of heart and simplicity and amiability of disposition, and had fine moral feelings."

"Emperor William's decision to attend the funeral pleases everybody, for he honors the memory of the man who passed away in a truly Christian spirit. Herr Krupp's last words after bidding farewell to his family, were: "I depart without ill will or bitterness. I depart in peace with all men, even with those who treated me the worst."

Managing-Director Roestiger, replying to the charges against Herr Krupp, said he thanked the Emperor for his presence at the funeral, adding that it would "be a shame if a German could be found who was influenced by the base inventions of foreigners."

After the burial Emperor William talked with Rev. Mr. Kilgemann, expressing the hope that all of Herr Krupp's benevolent enterprises would be continued.

One end of the cottage of the debefor addressed the directors of the Krupp works and a deputation of the workmen at the railway station. His Majesty sald:

"The man who was German to the core, who lived always only for others and for the welfare of the fatherland, above all for his own workmen, had his honor assalled. This deed with its consequences 's nothing less than murder, for there is no difference between him who mixes and presents a poisonous draught to another and him who, from the safe shelter of his editorial sanctum, with the poisoned darks of his sinders, robs his fellow man of his honorable name and kills him by the mental cortures he inflicts. "Who were they that committed this shameful act upon our friend? Men who hitherto had passed as Germans, but are now unworthy of this name. Men sprung from that class of the labor population which owes so infinitely much to Herr Krupp, and of which class thousands today in the labor population which owes so infinitely much to Herr Krupp, and of which class thousands today in the streets of Essen bowed their last farewell with weeping eyes to the coffin of their benefactor."

Turning to the deputation of Krupp workmen, Emperor William continued: "You, Krupp workmen, have always kapt loyal to, your employer and have stuck to him in your hearts with gratitude not unmixed with pride. I have seen the name of our German fatherland honored everywhere abroad by the work of your hands. Men who want to be leaders of the German workers have robbed you of your dear master. It lies with you to defend and shield his memory from defamation. I am confident that you will find the right way to demonstrate clearly and tangibly to the German working world.

that in the future it will be out of the question for honest, honor-loving Gerquestion for honest, honor-loving Ger-man workmen, whose escutcheon has been stained, to hold any community of relationship with the authors of this shameful deed. Frankfort-on-the-Main regarding the treatment of Hebrews in Roumania, appears in the Frankfurter Zeitung today. The letter, which was not intended for publication, is in part as follows:

"The Roumanian atrocities are simply monstrous and startle the civilized world. I have just received the Roumanian bulletin. No document equals it in cruelty since the series of laws with which Louis XIV persecuted the Huguenots. But even these, which have hitherto been regarded as the aeme of cruelty, are exceeded by those in the bulletin. I cannot believe that right-thinking Roumanians or other right-thinking Roumania stock to the total amount of $60,000, 000, the lease to be for a period of 999 years.

The official announcement, made by the two companies this afternoon, is as follows:

"The boards of directors of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company and of the Manhattan Railway Company met this afternoon for the purpose of taking action relative to the leasing of the Manhattan Railway Company to the Interborough Company.

"The lease will take effect on April 1, 1903, to be for 999 years, and to cover all the franchises and property of the Manhattan Railway Company.

"The rental from April 1, 1903, to January 1, 1906, will be the net carnings of the Manhattan company, not exceeding 7 per cent. After January 1, 1906, the rent will be 7 per cent. per annum on the stock of the Manhattan Railway Company guaranteed by the Interborough Rapid Transit Company. The Manhattan Railway Company stock is to be increased at once to $55,500,000, for the purpose of completing improvements already planned; the present stockholders of the Manhattan company to have the privilege of taking the new stock pro rata at par.

"Provision is to be made in the lease for the ultimate increase of Manhattan tan stock to the total amount of $60,000, including outstanding stock, and due provision is to be made for the application of the proceeds of the sale of the iscreased stock to the further improvement of the Manhattan property.

"The Interborough Company will pay ten thousand dollars ($10,000) per annum of the proceeds of the sale of the iscreased stock to the further improvement of the Manhattan property.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.-August Bel-mont of the Interborough Company which he sald:

"The directors of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company have this day, after previous long deliberation and investigation, determined, for reasons which appear to them important and controlling, as affecting the interests not only of the stockholders of the company, but of the city and of the traveling public, to lease the Manhattan system of elevated roads for a period of 999 years on the terms given out this afternoon.

"It is not intended by the arrangement that any of the plans for the development of the Interborough system shall be interrupted or departed from. Nor is it intended to dispense with any additions which are desirable to the Manhattan property."

George J. Gould, president of the Manhattan Company, followed Belmont's statement with the following:

"I have seen the interview with Mr. Belmont, and so far as the Manhattan aystem is concerned we agree with him that a union of the two properties brings about a conspicuously satisfactory solution of the rapid-transit problem of the metropolis, while at the same time the advantages of a fixed guarantee by a corporation of the character of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company. a large number of whom have, of course, as negotiations have progressed looking to this lease, approved of the proposed plan."

The plaintiff company denies the right of the defendant to compel the removal of the poles and the wires of the plaintiff, and alleges that the purpose of the attempt to oust the Western Union Telegraph Company from the lines of the Pennsylvania Railroad system is to give the Postal company all the privileges now enjoyed by the plaintiff company. It is claimed that there is ample room for the lines of both companies on the right of way of the defendant company, and that the object of the defendant company, and that the object of the defendant company, which, it is alleged, is contrary to the laws of the United States and Pennsylvania. In addition to the bill there was filed a bond for $100,000, which the court was asked to approve, to indenify the railroad company pending proceedings to determine the compensation to be paid to the railroad company in return for privileges the telegraph company naks as its right under the law. This is in addition to the injunction prayed for restraining the company from removing the telegraph lines from its property, for which the usual bond is filed.

The building is burned to the ground and is a complete loss, which brings the total loss to $175,600.

Officials of the railroad express the belief that the fire was incendiary. The fire started in the north end of the building. A general alarm brought the most of the city department to the place. The Union Pacific firemen had already arrived, and the united efforts of the two departments were required to keep the fire from spreading. The pressure was insufficient for a time, and the firemen were handicapped, but managed to confine the flames to the storehouse.

Britt Knocks Him Out After Fast Fight.

Champion Got in Most Telling Blows.

Oakland Makes Great Play, but Fails to Score-Ingleside Betting Lively.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—Frank Prine of Buffalo lost his hold on the championship of the world's white lightweight championship in his con-test with young Jimmie Britt of this city, who knocked Erne out in the seventh round at the Mechanics Pa-vilion tonight. The contest was the fastest ever witnessed in this city. Britt, while not so clever as the Buffalo man, was the more aggressive, and landed the most telling blows. The men went at it from the sound of the bell in the first round, and for nearly seven rounds it was a nip-and-tuck contest between them.

Britt proved himself far the eleverer in the divokes and never missed.

pumping organ, and at the close had his youthful adversary in an almost groggy condition.

In the sixth round, both men fought furiously, Britt trying to regain the ground he lost in the last half of the preceding, round, and Erne endeavoring to secure a decided lead over Britt. The latter played for the Buffaloan's stomach and heart, and during the last half minute of the round placed his left on Erne's solar plexus. Britt fought himself to a standstill, and both men went to their corners in a groggy condition, but the terrific punishment administered by Britt was not to be overcome by the minute's rest preceding the seventh round, and when Erne stepped to the center of the ring in what proved to be the final round, it was seen that he was almost gone. Britt was not blind to his advantage, and rushed at his man, landing terrific lefts to the body and rights to the face and in a fierce mix up. Britt put right and left to the face, and followed it with a left to the jaw. Erne looked groggy, but fought back gamely. Britt went at his man left to the jaw. They fought hard till, the sound of the bell with Erne fin the solar plexus, and he went down for a count of seven, but his dominant energy asserted itself, and he regained his feet, only to go down a few seconds later from another terrific left to the same place. He rolled over and did the best he could to regain his feet, but could not do so, and California had produced another champion.

Jimme Britt's professional fighting.

California had produced another chainplon.

Jimmie Britt's professional fighting career commenced less than a year ago, but during that time he has successfully fought his way to the top.
In the preliminaries, "Toothpick" Kelly, a much-advertised aspirant for heavyweight honors, put out Frank Gregg in the first ten seconds of their contest. Kelly weighs in the neighborhood of 220 pounds and is 6ft. 4in.
tall. He has little science at present, but his punching powers are above the ordinary.

Frank Erne was seen in his dressing-room after the contest, and said:
"I have no excuses to offer. I met a better, cleverer and stronger man than I expected to: a man who can lick any one of his weight in the world, not excepting the colored champion, Joe Gans, I was in perfect training for the contest, and felt as good as I ever did, but the Californian was too much for me and I succumbed to the inevitable."

It with a right to the body. Frank Jabbed Britt with a right on the face three times, but the blows lacked force. Britt drove his left to the face, and then followed with a hard left swing over the heart. He jabbed Erne lightly with the left as the bell sounded. Britt appeared to have the advantage in the round, and Erne went to his corner loosing serious. Second round—Britt led for the head, but was short. He sent in his left twice to the body, and a right to the head. They sparred carefully. Britt missed a left and right for the body. He drove in a vicious left and right to the jaw. Erne tried hard for the body, but the youthful Californiar was out of harm's way. Britt sent in a hard straight right to the face, and followed it with a left to the body. They mixed, it, no blows being struck. In another mix, Erne put his left hard to Jimmie's head. He tried a left for the jaw, but Britt blocked it neatly. Britt seiled in with two rights to the head and an uppercut to the law. Britt seiled in with two rights to the head and an uppercut to the law. The bell sounded with the men fighting hard. Britt had the better of this round, both in offensive and de-iaw. The best sounded with the setter of fighting hard. Britt had the better of this round, both in offensive and defensive work.

Britt proved himself far the cleverer in the clinches, and never missed a chance to use his right or left to advantage. The eastern lad showed his superior generalship in many tight places, and kept Britt off with straight lefts during the early part of the battle, and later in the contest discovered that he could uppercut the Californian successfully. On one or two occasions he had the San Francisco boy at a disadvantage. Erne was in a bad plight several times, but fought back with superb gameness, and succeeded in keeping the Californian off at most critical periods.

In only one round did Erne have a decided advantage, the fifth. Early in this round, Erne landed a stiff left on Britt's law, and followed it up with a terrific right to the heart. He continued to play for the Californian's pumping organ, and at the close had his youthful adversary in an almost groggy condition.

In the sixth round, both men fought furlously, Britt trying to regain the ground he lost in the last half of the preceding round, and Erne endeavoring wicked right, straight to the last with a bett to the kindneys. Erne put in a vicious right uppercut to the jaw, which daxed Britt just a trifle. Erne jabbed Britt with the left, and then put in a wicked right, straight to the jaw, just be grounded. Seventh round—Britt came up looking determined, and appeared stronger. He drove Erne backward with a left to the body, and followed it up with right and left swings to the faw. Erne fought back amely, but it looked as if he was going to the ground. Britt floored Erne with left to the jaw, but the Buffslo boy came up. Britt uppercut Erne with a hard left and again sent him to the floor. Erne groaned perceptibly upon receiving the blow, and tottered to the floor a beaten man. He tried to rise as

for me and I succumbed to the inevitable."

Jimme Britt was in a happy mood and could not say words too kind or too considerate of Erne.

"Erne is without a doubt the cleverest man I ever met," he said. "He did something that no one else has ever done heretofore; he landed on me in places that I have always considered impregnable, and his blows hurt. He is a clean, good fighter, and I am only sorry that I had to hurt him as much as I did to win the fight.

"As for my future plans, I can say nothing at this time, but you can state positively for me that I will not fight Joe Gans or any other colored man. I am open to meet all comers in my class, but they must be white men."

Among those who saw the fight were Jeffries and Flizsimmons.

At 9:45 o'clock p.m., Britt entered the ring, followed by his seconds.

At present all the convicts, who are mostly educated men sentenced for political offenses, are loaded with chains and herded together in dark, damp cells, where sanitary conditions are loathsome. It is a mystery how any woman can use destructive washing compounds when her washing can be done so quickly, so thoroughly and so economically with the aid of a little BORAX. Ordinary cleansers and laundry scope injure the skin. If they injure the skin and make hands rough, they cat clothes. BORAX benefits the skin, preserves clothes and makes washing remarkably simple and easy. This is

Smith of San Diego, was the best by four strokes, that was chalked up on the board. Miss Smith will have her name inscribed on the big silver cup that the Country Club has on hand for such purposes. The first handleap prize fell to the playing of Mrs. R. H. Miner, who made a score of 70, with 32 strokes' handleap. The score of 71, made by Mrs. G. McGowan, won the second handleap prize. Bogey wasn't anywhere near in danger, though the women put their best efforts into their playing. Miss Alicellant game the first round, and finished in 45, tying Miss Smith for the nine holes. She has a mannish drive, and is an exact putter at her best. In the second her stroke failed, and she finished in 51.

The best score for a single round was made by Mrs. W. T. Bishop in 44 strokes.

Considering the fine condition of the links, and greens, the scores should have been —who better. Miss Smith is champion woman golfer of Southern California, and might have been expected to beat bogey under the favorable conditions that existed.

Teachers and pupils of the public schools of the city have had their "say" by ballot as to what should be done with the $2500 or more contrib-uted by them in 1898 toward the now defunct "American Boy" battleship scheme, and the result of the vote was made known last night by Superin-

The count shows a large majority in favor of turning the money over to the Children's Hospital. Whether or not the whole of the present Board of Education will every set together again during the limit course which its eventrul and some times puglistic career has yet to run, is a question which presents itself to one who may have been present during these least sad meetings that mark the fall of its final year.

As has been the case for more than one session, there was no quorum last night. President Washburn couldn't come. Brown wasn't there. Hogan is sick. Giffen dropped in, but had a previous engagement, and dropped out. Simonton stayed awhile, but was excused early. At the close of the weak but good-natured session, Skilling, the temporary chairman, presided over three of his conference; not three men in a boat, but in a fix, because there weren't enough of them to do business. A movement to adjourn was favorably considered.

IBY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.1 PARIS, Nov. 28.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Ellen Gore drama reached a fitting climax today in the mournfully picturesque funeral at the American church in the Rue de Berri. The ccasion was marked by a notable demonstration of sympathy, not only on the part of the Americans, but by the French middle classes, artists and other habitues of the Latin Quarter. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the street in front of the church was acked with students in unique cos umes, and as the cortége approached hey uncovered their heads. The carse was preceded by a uniformed unctionary, wearing a blue sash and a cocked hat. The hearse was hung with black, and bore the monogram of the deceased. The oak casket was covered with a pail. It was followed by three state carriages, but, excepting the first, they were empty. The first carriage was occupied by M. Paquet, representing Consul-General Gowdy. There were no pallbearers and no mourners. The interior of the building was crowded, chiefly with women. Artista filled the aisles. One of them stood sketching the scene.

The casket rested on a high catafalque in front of the altar, and was covered by five superb wreaths, one unctionary, wearing a blue sash and s

HOW THE TIMES TREATS LABOR.

THE LOS ANGELES TIMES regularly pays to its skilled, reliable and acceptable workmen wages that average from $3.75 to $4.50 per day for time work, and from $4 to $5.50 per day for piece work. These rates are higher than are paid by any competing newspaper; and another advance has recently been agreed upon. The Times pays larger sums weekly, monthly and yearly for labor than any journal in all the Southwest. Its cash disbursements on this ecount between August, 1890, and the end of September, 1901, aggregated $1,007,020.81, and its annual expenditures for labor of all classes, both skilled and unskilled, now average more than $175,000 per year. There never has been any attempt, in any quarter, to deny these specific and telling facts, and the proprietors challenge such denial if made. Not for years has The Times had any trouble with its workmen, who are independent of unions, loyal to their employers and themselves, well satisfied and prosperous. The es controls its own business in its own way, subject only to the laws of the land; and no interference with that control can be lawfully or justly made. The result of its fixed policy has proven highly beneficial to all concerned, and the justness and correctness of its course have for years past received public approval in most marked and conspicuous ways, the circulation and advertising patronage of the paper steadily and largely outstripping that of all local rivals.

THE TIMES-MIRROR COMPANY.

H. G. OTIS. President and General Manager.

Since no attempt whatever has ever been made in any quarter to refute, or von dispute, the accuracy of the foregoing authoritative statements, our defeated maligners are estopped; and the public is amply warranted in giving no credence to contemporary hostile assaults upon The Times management in the matter of its relations to its workmen, or vice versa. Falsehood must yield

BUSINESS.

The Les Angeles banks turned checks into the clearinghouse yesterday amounting to $1,009,336,32, as compared with $890,330 for the corresponding period of last year. Taxes and the holiday spirit of Thanksgiving are responsible in part for the big figure at this time.

Manhattan was again extensively traded in at New York, and closed with a gain of 2% points on transactions considerably in excess of one-fourth of the day's business. Prices in wheat had an upward tendency at Chicago. De-cember closed three-eighths to half a cent higher and May wheat one-quarter to half a cent higher.

LESSON IN INDEPENDENCE.

A Mayor Schmitz of San Francisc who is "in our midst," has been giving advice to "organized labor" in Los Angeles. The gist of mis-vice is that the members of trade union organizations in the city should union organizations in the city should Angeles. The gist of his adby all means vote the union-labor ticket straight, giving neither aid nor comfort to either of the old parties. There is every reason to believe that this advice will be followed, as a rule, by those to whom it has been addressed. Mayor Schmitz professes to believe that if the trade unionist vote their city ticket en masse, they will stand a fair chance of electing it. Opinions differ on this question (which do not care to discuss at this time.) If Mr. Schmitz's advice be followed, there will at least be a showing of relative voting strength-and this will be of some value. The advice of Mayor Schmitz is of particular significance in one sense. It gives the candidates publican and Democratic tickets some idea of how much "support" they can expect from the ranks of "organized labor" in the coming municipal contest. If these candidates can get any great amount of satisfaction out of the prospect, they are certainly welcome to it. Nearly every one of these candidates has for weeks been kowtowing and truckling, in a more or less subservent manner, to the so-called "union Scarcely one has been thout fault in this respect, though the subserviency of some has been greater than that of others. The typophical totem-emblem of servility, servitude and subserviency-has en placed upon the cards and other printing of the several candidates under the mistaken idea that by this servile and humiliating donning of the union collar a few "labor votes" night possibly be gained.

It now appears-and it appears so dearly that the wayfaring man, though fool, need make no mistake about t-that the organized labor force have no intention and have had intention of voting for any andidates except those named on heir own ticket. This is, of course, he logical thing for them to do, as bey have a ticket in the field, and no great political principles are at stake in the local contest.

Thus the candidates who have ecks for the "totem" yoke of serility, who have forsworn their mangood and hypothecated their independnce-have had their trouble for their cains. All their subserviency has temporary bridge over existing difference for naught. They have sowed cuities, it would be an evil rather he seeds of foolishness, and will ustly reap a harvest of contempt. stly reap a harvest of contempt. bject contempt than the class of aen to whom they have bowed down with a view of finding some basis of hypocritical servility.

Candidates on either the Republican The independent operators evince or the Democratic ticket who are successful at next Monday's election will not owe their election to "unionlabor" votes, for neither Republican nor Democratic candidates will get any help from that quarter. Independent workingmen, who belong to no union, will vote according to the dictates of their better judgment, and, as a matter of course, few or none of them will vote the "union-labor" ticket. But for these votes of independent, self-respecting workingmen. no kowtowing is necessary, nor could It possibly win votes if resorted to They will vote, as American citizens with their convictions and preferences It is clear from the foregoing that political candidate of all sorts make fatal and foolish mistake when they consent to wear the collar of any class mortgage away their independence as citizens, in the hope thereby to gain votes. The manly, straightforward. independent course is best. It commands the general respect and confidence of the public at large; and the good opinion of the general community is of more value to any candidate than the selfish favor of any class, clique, or faction.

Honesty is the best policy in bust ness affairs. Sincerity, straightforthe best policy in politics-if politicians and candidates only knew it. The Times utters these independent sentiments and gives this candid adsentiments and gives this candid advice on the eve of the city election without fearing the consequences and without care for the criticisms of partisans of any party.

We inaugurate the first sale of the season on Friday, Nev. 28, by offering our patrons a rare opportunity to secure dress goods at less than half their former price.

We have gone carefully through our stock and consolidated all broken lines and odd lengths, irrespective of original cost, and place the entire selection on sale at 75c the yard.

A fair representation of all different tabrics will be shown, as our season's selling of dress goods has been so heavy, many lines are broken in color assortment; consequently the remainder is added to our clean-up sale. Among the collection will be found Etamines, London Twines, Canvas Cloths, Zibelines, Whipcord, Tailor Suitings, Mystrals, Mohairs, Cheviot and Heather Mixtures.

They range in price from $1,25 to $2.00 the yard and in several instances higher.

On sale tomorrow, Friday, Nov. 28.

of Cuticura.

Of Cuticura.

This 'reatment at once stope falling hair, removes crusts, scales, and dandruf, soothes irritated, itching surfaces, estimulates the hair follicles, supplies the roots with chargy and nourishment, and makes the hair grow upon a sweet, wholesome, healthy scalp when all cles fails.

Millions use Cuticura Soap, assisted by Cuticura Cintment, for preserving, purifying, and beautifying the skin, for cleaning the scalp of crusts, scales, and dandruf, and the stopping of failing hair, for coftening, whitening, and soothing red, rough, and sore hands, for baby rashes, chafings, and itchings, and for all the purposes of the tollet, bath, and sursery. Millions of women use Cuticura Soap in the form of baths for annoying irritations, inflammations, and chafings, or too free or offensive perspiration, in the form of washes for ulcerative weaknesses, and many sanative, antiseptic purposes which readily suggest themselves to women and mothers. Cuticura Soap combines delicate emollient properties derived from Cuticura, the great skin cure, with the purset of cleaning ingredients and the most refreshing of flower odors. No other medicands casp ever compounded is to be compared with it for preserving, purifying and beautifying the akin, acalp, hair, and hands. No other foreign or domestic tollet soap, however expensive, is to be compared with it for all the purposes of the toilet, bath, and nursery. Thus it combines in one soap at one price the best skin and complexion soap, the best toilet, bath, and haby seap in the world.

Ever since her arrival in Los Angelos, hearly three weeks ago, Miss Bell has remained in almost absolute seclusion in her room at a North Broadway lodging-house. She has been in consultation several times with her altorneys, Works & Lee, and has searched the records of the county in company with a Miss Waters of Louisville, Ky., in an effort to establish claim to valuable property in Los Angeles—the residue, she says, of the estate of her deceased uncle, Jacob Bell, who was murdered several decades ago. Upon her arrival at the lodging-house she declared that she would see no newspaper representatives, and she issued orders to bar all such from her presence.

It was suggested that the taxpayers did not relish the prospect of having the big brown-stone building carted back to Pennsylvania, and that there of real estate holders as to the integrity of their land titles.

"Well," said Miss Bell, "they had no business to build on my property."

"Oh. I have the title, all right," she said. "I am sure of that. I am satisfied that the matter will be settled in my favor by the court. I have positive proof that the property still rests in the name of my deceased uncle. NO CAUSE FOR ALARM. While Miss Bell's claims, if estab-lished, would work sad havoc to many holders of real estate, it is the general belief that, if the property in querion once belonged to Jacob Bell, the titles long since have passed securely into other hands by operation of the statute of limitations.

Under this statute, when title to property is in dispute, a claimant who has held possession for five years may bring suit to quiet title, and if no one has held possession for five years may bring suit to quiet title, and if no one appears to establish prior claim the title rests with the claimant.

O. B. Carter, an attorney who is well versed in the merits of the case so far as-the claim to certain portions of the property is concerned, said yesterday that property owners and intending purchasers need not be alarmed at the claims of the Bell heirs.

"Acting upon my opinion as an attorney," said Mr. Carter, "the Title Guarantee and Trust Company has issued many certificates of title to valuable properties included in the twenty acres in the heart of the city to which the Bell heirs threaten to lay claim. Present occupants of the property hold certificates of good title to the property. An agent of Chris Buckley, the "blind white boss," made an effort last night to buy off Me-Gahan, the Union Labor candidate for Mayor.

The move was made in behalf of Mayor Snyder, who fears that his prospects are injured by the inroads that will be made in his strength by the labor candidate.

The proposition was made at Council of Labor Hall, where a reception was tendered to Mayor Schmitz of San Francisco and where Candidate McGahan was a guest.

Mayor Schmitz and prominent members of the Council of Labor confirmed the report

Details of the proposition were not disclosed, the negotiations being nipped in the bud by a refusal of McGahan and his managers to be bought.

Mayor Snyder is said to have called on Schmitz in an endeavor to induce the San Francisco executive to refrain from making a campaign for Mc-Gahan, representation being made to Schmitz that four out of five of the members of the Union Labor party are 'for Snyder. One of those swift and unheralded moves for which the Los Angeles Italiway Company is noted, was leaded off at Second and Broadway seterday morning by P. Derania, who is laying the sever main along Broadway. It looked for a time as if there would be trouble of a serious nature, but this was averted. The railway company withdrew before Derania's hovel, which was poised in a threatman manner, and will not try to resume work until the contractor has inished the job at that point. Day before yesterday the railway company had a gang of peons at that corner, and, without saying if you please, they began tearing up the pavement, preliminary to laying a curve from the Broadway tracks to hose ruuning east on Second street. In the course of construction they yould necessarily have passed over the trenches dug for the safety of the lash working beneath.

Derania ordered the peons off, and they wouldn't go. He started to make them go by force, and several of them grabbed their shovels and picks for weapons of defense. He did the same and they retreated, and didn't go back to work that day.

Testerday they were on hand again, and Derania made the same determined resistance. Operations ceased again when his shovel was brought into play, and then he went and engaged an attorney. The difference was settled by the railway company entering into the agreement mentioned.

When the company has its curve his the city may have an objection to its existence at that place, as the tracks will pass over the manhole at the corner, and may interfere with its workings.

CHIEF DEPUTY ENGINEER GONE.

John M. Wolbrecht, chief deputy in the City Engineer's office, died at 7 o'clock Tuesday night at the Delaware due to kidney disease and complications that arose therefrom.

The door of City Engineer Stafford's private room at the City Hall was draped in crape yesterday and the whole office force felt keenly the loss of their fellow-workman. A beautiful

John M. Wolbrecht was born in Chicago in 1848, and was educated in the University of St. Louis. He graduated from the engineering department at the head of his class and immediately thereafter, when he was 19, he was given a responsible position on the engineering force that was constructing the St. Louis bridge. REQUISITION PAPERS FROM TEN-NESSEE FOUND DEFECTIVE.

Informal Meeting Between Bryson and Miss Howell and Their Attorneys Held Yesterday in the Office of Gov. Gage. erner Delays His Decision.

A snag was struck yesterday in the plan to take Hugh W. Bryson back to Tennessee to be tried on a charge of kidnaping. It seems that the plan is not so simple as it sounds.

Although the requisition papers have at last arrived from Tennesses, it is said they are defective.

Yesterday morning, Deputy Sheriff Hancock of Memphis arrived from Sacramento, where he had stopped with the requisition papers. Hancock had been expected for several days. He was delayed, however, by a railroad. was delayed, however, by a railroad wreck in Nevada.

Testerday was the day set for the preliminary examination of Bryson on the charge of being a fugitive from justice. When the matter came before Justice Downing, a motion was made for a contierdance for one week, which was granted without comment.

Bryson and Miss Howell, with their attorneys, then went to the office of Gov. Gage, where the matter was informally discussed. This meeting was held at Gov. Gage's request. It was his idea to learn if there was sufficient merit in the case to grant requisition even if the papers were all right. There were no sensational features in the meeting of Bryson and Miss How.

There were no sensational features in the meeting of Bryson and Miss Howell. It was quite a cold-blooded affair. The result was generally depressing to those who have been trying to bring Bryson to prison.

Although the Governor has given no final opinion, the papers are known to be defective in several particulars, beginning with a bad complaint.

TWAS A BAD CASE.

Health Officer Powers testified that he had made an examination of the Reed child and that it was afflicted with diphtheria in a malignant form. He ordered the house quarantined and advised the parents to at once secure medical attention if they wished to save its life.

W. H. Laws, quarantine officer, stated that when he put the diphtheria sign on the house he talked to the mother, advising her to follow the advice of the physician, as the child was in a dangerous condition, and in the event of serious results she should not blame the Health Office.

"No," she said. "If it is God's will, all will be right."

Attorney Wright of counsel for the Reeds, expressed a doubt as to the use of the words "God's will," saying:
"For you know, Christian Scientists do not believe that it is God's will that anybody should die."

When the Reeds became anxious about their child, they did a very inconsistent thing, for Christian Scientists. They telephoned twice to Dr. Eliza Kearney, a regular medical practitioner, to call and see their little one. She did so and pronounced it suffering from diphtheria, and advised speedy treatment, but to her astonishment they refused to let her treat it. The father said his child's life was in higher hands than theirs.

A half-dosen or more Christian Science "healers" were present during the visit of Dr. Kearney, and the latter was so impressed with the importance of giving the child immediate attention that she urged the following of treatment she outlined, without in

"No; Christian Science can cure all ills."

Said Dr. Kearney: "The membrane was extending back into the throat when I examined the child, and up into the nose, and blood was oozing from one nostril, and when I urged the lather to let me do something for his child he only shook his head. Twice I inquired about the child by telephone, and each time I was told it was better, and I never heard differently until they asked me to sign the death certificate, which I could not do."

Attorney Wright and the witness had a somewhat stringent argument as to the use and efficacy of anti-toxin as a remedy for diphtheria. She declared it was a certain cure where a case was taken in time.

Dr. S. J. Quint, assistant health offideclared it was a certain cure where a case was taken in time.

Dr. S. J. Quint, assistant health officer, said that he had made a microscopical examination of a "culture" from the throat of the Reed child and pronounced it diphtheria. He also testified that anti-toxin was a specific of diphtheria when taken in time.

I went to a Christian Science practitioner, and she told me to go home and eat three meals a day and leave the rest to her. I have been able to do a day's work ever since."

G. M. Giffin testified: "During the early part of this year I was suffering from sleeplessness, kidney and heart trouble, intense pain at the base of the brain: was nervous and irritable and unable to attend to business. One evening I met a Christian Science-healer at 5 o'clock, went home and ate my dinner, spent the evening with my family, went to bed and slept all night, and got up in the morning with the pain all gone for the first time in three months. and we are compelled to use it constantly by the involuntary act of respiration. Consequently, comparatively few persons give any attention either to the quantity or quality of the air they breathe until compelled to do so by serious attacks of sickness.

If we look at the ruling fashions of dress, the arrangements of our dwellings, especially in regard to sleeping rooms and ventilation, and the defective construction and overcrowding of a large proportion of all the places for carrying on all the various industries of civilized life, it will justify the inference that the chief object of human beings is to use as little air in breathing as possible and to have that little more or less impure.

If we add to the foregoing the large number of females who confine themselves strictly to indoor or sedentary habits, either from the nature of their occupations or from choice, together with those whose breathing is rendered less efficient by depressing mental impressions or worry and persistent mental: application, we shall realize more fully the difficulty of practically obtaining an adequate daily supply of fresh air in our lungs, notwithstanding its abundance everywhere.

IN SERIOUS TROUBLE.

Goods Under Name of Another.

Mrs. C. C. Bell with her two small children was taken to the City Jail last night by Detectives Benedict and Jones. She is charged with a misdemeanor offense of obtaining goods by false pretenses, but the officers assert that not only could they bring a felony charge against her, but they could also prosecute her for forgery. The reason is niencency is shown is that she is the mother of two small children, and there is doubt as to her mental responsibility for her acts.

She was arrested at her home at No. 1418 East Fifteenth street, and owing to the fact that her husband was not at home, it was necessary that her children be taken to jail with her. The mother and two bables were given quarters in the Receiving Hospital until such a time as bail could be given. The charge against the woman is that she went to the Boston dry-goods store and representing herself to be Mrs. A. G. Newton, a relative of hers, who has an account there, obtained goods to the aggregate value of $250. She is said to have made several trips to the store, each time making a purchase of from $3$ to $80. The character of the goods purchased and the fact that no woman would have use for the articles in such quantities, led to suspicion and an investigation was instituted which resulted in the arrest last night.

The Corner For Parents

Don't Take Liberties With Baby's Food

BABY is now over ten months old, and is strong and heaithy. He takes five meals a day of clear, warm meals a day of clear, warm milk, and once I give him a little oatmeal or bread and milk. He does not grow fast nor get fat, but I think that is natural. Now he seems hungry for other eatables. I have known many babies younger than he who are fed on baken potato, egg, etc. Do you think it wise to give him a little wholesome food? Do you advise meat juice in cold weather, and does a baby require sugar? If you woul kindly answer these questions and give me a little dietary for a baby beginning to eat I would be still more grateful you. Also, do you consider it harm-set a child at the table with the farmful . set a child at the table with the farrily when it is a question of that or his staying alone? We used to feed him his, bread and milk at table, until he grew to "tease" too much. Then we did not let him come to the table, and now, though he sits with us in his high chair, he does not tease at all, but plays quietly. He feeds himself very neatly if the food is placed in his spoon.

Is there any remedy for the danger of grandmotherly spoiling? I know you will say to use gentle tact and suggestions, but I sometimes fear I am deficient in tact. Why do grandmothers (paternal especially) insist on all good and evil things for the baby? She is not at all un reasonable, and I really should not com-plain, but as baby grows older and wished to eat, etc., the danger increases. I am living with my parents-in-law. I. C.

First of all let me advise you to get Dr. Emmet Holt's "Cathechism and Manual for Mothers and Nurses." It should be in every mother's hands. The writer is eminent in profession as a specialist in the treatment of children's constitutions and diseases.

Secondly. As a mother who has cared for six babies of her own, I warn you against tak-ing liberties with baby's stomach before ne has his full complement of teeth. He may need-he probably does-more substantial nourishment than milk. If you give him oatmeal, boil ment than milk. If you give him oatmeal, boil it to a jelly to soften the husks, which irritate the intestines. Let him eat it with cream. Bermuda arrowroot is good, cooked in rilk. Wet two teaspoonfuls with cold water and stir into a pint of boiling milk. Cook for three minutes, stirring constantly. Sweeten very slightly.

Faria is nourishing. Wet a tablespoonful with cold water, stir into a half pint of hot water and cook in a double boiler for ten minutes. Sweeten slightly and add two cupfuls of hot milk. Cook for half an hour longer. Thin with milk or cream. Baby will relish and Thin with milk or cream. Baby will relish and grow fat upon it.

Should he seem anaemic, give him homemade beef juice once a day. Don't trust "canned things." I know of but one preparation of "beef juice" on he market in which I have any well-grounded confidence. I should not believe in that if I had not inspected the manufacture personally years ago, and con-vinced myself that no nefarious embalming business was at work there.

Don't think me a crank upon the pure food question. Certain investigations, including chemical analysis, which I made last winter, have left the taste of salicylic acid upon the tongue of my imagination. It is bad enough to poison adults, but the drugging of children through preserved fruits and vegetables may well kindle righteous ire in the mother heart.

If baby does not disturb you at table, do not deny yourself and him the pleasure of sitting with you. His table manners will be all the better for early training in the use of spoon, knife and fork. My youngest-born (now a tonier shoot 6 feet 2½ inches) has sat at the family board, when no guests were present, since he was eight months old.

As to the grandmotherly question, it is not easy to advise you or any other mother of easy to advise you or any other mother of small children. I think sometimes that the disposition to interfere in the management of children's children is proportionate to the fondness the grandparents feel for the youngsters. "'ev are but one remove from our very own offspring, recollect. We have all the pleasure and comfort of the darling's companionship, delight which should be of right unalloyed by any sense of responsibility. After years and years of taking anxious thought for our charges, it is hard to drop the habit. Il at our charges, it is hard to drop the habit .!! at once.

Descending again to personalities. I have not had the temptation to take a hand in the management of grandchildren. True, I laid down for myself, with the advent of No. 1 of the third generation, the rule never to lisp a disciplinary word when the parents were present. Such meddling is always a fl. grant impertinence, no matter how nearly skin the offender may be to the child, provided he or she be not the actual parent. Neglect of this simple principle is the reef upon which affectionate grandparents most often come to grief and cause grief to others.

Fortunately for my peace of mind, Nos. 1. 2, 3, 4, and 5 have been so well trained as to give me no excuse for breaking my resolution. No. 6 is as my own baby, having been left in my arms before she knew her mother.

I am telling you all this that you may not misinterpret my plea for the meddling grandmother. She would not eare how the boy is brought up if she did not love him dearly. Be patient with her and forbearing. When she snatches the reins from your fingers remind yourself that she is John's mother, who feels for him and for his as you feel for baby. Put for him and for his as you feel for baby. Put yourself in her place—and be charitable.

To a Mother Whose Son is to Marry

WOULD you please tell an anxious M OULD you please tell an anxious mother what is the right and proper thing to do when your son has told you of his engagement? Although the young lady has "isited you, and you know her well, is it proper to call and tell her that you are pleased, or something > that effect? For if you are pleased with your son's choice, you cannot offer the ordinary phrases of congratulation, you know.

MOTHER.

Another question of "in-laws."

Before you call upon your son's betrothed, sit you down and hold serious, sensible converse with yourself. Face the fact womanfully that you are to look into the eyes fawoman whom your boy loves better than he loves you, or ever could 1 ze you. The truth will hurt. It is truth, all the same. Hold it to your heart until you are used to the pain. And may God help you.

Then look at the other side of the shield.

Then look at the other side of the shield. It is better for your son to marry that to remain single. As much better as it was for his father to woo and wed you. He should have his own home and family. You will not, in all probability, be able to make a home for these good things. Think of the woman who is to bring all this about as the bearer of gifts is to bring all this about as the bearer of gifts to your boy, and try to be grateful to her. Resolve solemnly never to weaken her influence with hi.a. See clearly, and for all time, that you could do him no more bitter wrong than to come between him and his wife.

Finally, salve the pain we spoke of by the steadfast assurance that the mother's place in her child's heart is inalienable. You are as much your son as you ever were. He does not love you less. He only loves his chosen wife more. This is God's own appointment, and not to be resisted without sin and corsequent sorrow.

Then carry a brave heart and a cheerful Take her in your arms and tell her-as you intimate that you can—honestly—that you are glad your son has won her, and that you mean to set her in your heart at his side.

Mean every word of and keep the pledge.

Removal of Ink Stains From Cloths

O YOU knew of anything which will remove red ink stains from a coat without injuring it?

A. J. N.

You do not say what the color of the coat is. Unless it be white, any application which would variet the red ink would take the body color of the garment with it. Were I in your place, I should send the coat to a professional cleaner. Living in the city as you do, you can easily do it. Cleaners have chemical preparations known to the trade which act far more effectually upon stains and spots than any amateur reparations. It is cheaper in the long run to put a valuable garment into their hands, holding them responsible for the result, than to try, first one thing, then another, without success, to be told when you resort, finelly, to "the profession." that you have set the stain and made the mischief irremediable even by the aforesaid "chemicals."

Soap-Making Which Means Success

I N a late issue of your paper I saw that "H. H. H." had failed in her soap-making. I had the same trouble years ago, until I tried the following recipe, which I have used for more than ten years every spring and fall without one failure:

5 pounds of grease.

also to render and strain all the fats through a sieve, to have it free from large pieces.

Melt the grease; put one quart of cold rater on the pound of lye. When dissolved, add slowly to the grease. Then add the rest of the water—nine quarts—and boil four or five hours. If at the end of that time the soap has boiled down, add enough cold water, stirring all the time, to fill up the pot to the original quantity. This will fill two wooden starch boxes, which, when cut, makes twelve calves, six in cach box. Line the boxes with old muslin befure putting in soap. It comes out more easily. I sometimes use old pasteboard shee boxes. I would like to have "H. H. H." try this and let me know how she has succeeded. If she has any trouble she can write to me direct.

You will find in the recipe column to-day. formula for boiled dressing that will keep in a cold place for two weeks. I do not warran a to remain good for a month. Nor do I consider any salad dressing which has been kept for several days so nice as a freshly madmayonnaise.

AMERICAN WOMEN AHEAD OF ALL OT ERS

OUND the loud timbrel! The American woman has triumphed in London as she never has before. One of the most conservative journals private a lotter of the most conservative journals are not a lotter of the most conservative journals. servative journals prints a letter from an English woman who has been observing English woman who has been observing closely the American colony in Paris. The writer eulogizes American women in these glowing terms: "I am not an American; I am not acquainted with the lady who has founded the Dressmakers Protective Association of America. I have never been to America, and know not ling about American dressmakers; but I know a great deal about American women, and have seen their over and over again in clothes made in their own country, which fitted them and suited them, and were far smarter than anything one sees here in Paris. Of course, I refer especially to hats, tailor-made dresses, coats, boots, blouses and toilette accessories in general.

FAMOUS WICKENBURG PRODUCES IS HELD AT HIGH FIGURE.

at United Verde Mine-Colorado River pment in Progress-Great Ac-Promised for the Chleride

A syndicate of California capitalists is negotiating for the purchase of the famous Ore Grande mine at Wickenburg, Aris., This producer is one of the most promising in the Territory. Many thousands of dollars have been spent in opening it. Over 2500 feet of shafts, tunnels and other workings are among the improvements, and large quantities of high-grade ore have been exposed. Nine crossouts sent in show quantities of high-grade ore have been exposed. Nine crossouts sent in show the ore body to vary in width from 110 to 140 feet.

The property is owned by a close corporation that has never offered the mine for sale, and which it is understood holds it at a fancy figure. No understanding has been reached with the California syndicate, which has experts an the ground.

In the same district a big strike was recently made at the Beas mine, where a ledge four feet thick, and well defined, has been opened.

Work which was stopped on the White mine some time has been resumed.

UNITED VERDE IMPROVEMENTS.

COLORADO RIVER WORKS.

Numerous companies are laying plans for the commencement of active work along the Colorado River in the nearfuture. The leaching plant in the Buckskin Mountains on the Arisona in which local capitalists are interested is desig good work, and the company is figuring on an extension of the plant.
The Grand Gulch people are opening the inline below the 400-foot level, and are entering some excellent ore. The pay rock lies in sandatone in large deposits. An effort is being made at Grand Gulch to get permanent formation, where it is thought a great vein of copper will be found.

PACIFIC WILL RESUME.

Newhall Operators Encouraged by Advance in Oil Market-Oceanic Will

Preparations are being made to re-sume operations at the plant of the Pacific Oil Company in the Newhall field. For several months work has ducers in the State.

Shortly after it passed into the hands of the Standard Oil Company the principal production was cut off, but now that the market for fuel oil shows signs of improvement wells are to be uncapped and development resumed. In the Newhall field are signs of awakening at plants that have been tied up during the slump, and several of the companies will probably resume operations in the near future.

MUSIC AND MUSICIANS.

Herr Franz Wilczek gave a violin recital at the Los Angeles Theater last evening, assisted by Mme. Bishop and Miss De Vere. The programme was as follows: Suite, plano-violin, (Goldmark) second movement, (Goldmark) Franz Wilczek; arla, "Don Carlos" (vocal solo) (Verdi.) Mme. Genevra Johnstone-Bishop, viano, solo (Sec.

Frank Wilczeki aria, "Don Carlos" (vocal solo) (Verdi.) Mme. Genevra Jehnstone-Bishop: piano solo (selected) Miss Catherine De Vere; "Fantaisle Caprice" (Vieuxtemps,) Frank Wilczek; "An End" (Von Fielitz;) "His Favorite Flower" (Lowitz;) "Love's Rapture" (Korthener,) Mme. Genevra Johnstone-Bishop; Zapetrado, (Sarasate,) Frank Wilczek.

Herr Wilczek deepened the excellent impression he had already created as an artist of exceptional ability "and charm. He played with a verue and fire tempered by discretion. His tone, full and melodic, rang through the andante passages and scintillated in the brilliante movements. He created immense enthusiasm and was forced to yield occasionally to the tempestuous demand for encores. Miss De Vere, who officiated at the plano, is an able accompanist, and plays brightly and interestingly in her solo numbers. Mme. Bishop was in full voice and had chosen her aria and songs with a view to doing herself entire justice. Mme. Bishop also contributed an encore.

EVANGELISTIC MEETINGS.
ALHAMBRA, Nov. 25.—Smith and Smythe, the New York evangelists, opened a series of afternoon and even-ing meetings for one week, at Borden Hall Monday afternoon. The after-noon subjects are in the nature of instruction and helps to Christians instruction and helps to Christians and Christian workers, ably presented by Rev, Arthur J. Smith. The evening meetings are devoted to awakening religious interest among the masses, when the words of eloquence and Christian zeal from Evangelist Smith are cemented by the fine gospel songs of Harper G. Smythe. The attendance is quite large, especially at the evening meetings, and it is probable that it will be necessary to hold the last of them in the churches, to accommodate all who desire to hear the last of them in the churches, to accommodate all who desire to hear the evangelists. There will be no meetings Thursday and Saturday aftermoons, and the last appearance of the evangelists will be Sunday evening.

Syrup of Figs appeals to the cultured and the well-informed and to the healthy, because its component parts are simple and wholesome and because it acts without disturbing the natural functions, as it is wholly free from every objectionable quality or substance. In the process of manufacturing figs are used, as they are pleasant to the taste, but the medicinal virtues of Syrup of Figs are obtained from an excellent combination of plants known to be medicinally laxative and to act most beneficially.

IN SAN PEDRO SOON.

SAN PEDRO, Nov. 26.—The unex-pected happened last night when the City Trustees were ready to open bids for the street railway franchise asked for by the Pacific Electric Company. It had been rumored that both the Trustien and Swithern Pacific and Traction and Southern Pacific com-panies would bid for the privilege, but there was only one proposal, that of the Pacific Electric, for $1001. The franchise was awarded to the Hunt-ington system.

the Pacine Electric, for $1001. The franchise was awarded to the Huntington system.

This franchise is the most important of its kind yet granted by this city. The right of way extends over five miles of graded roadway, forming a belt line around the city, and crosscutting the town in several places. Beginning at the intersection of Pacific avenue, at its intersection with the southerly boundary line of San Pedro, the tracks will run to the northerly boundary line of the city, where it will be joined with the tracks running along Beacon sirect from Fourth street. The line will cover parts of Front, Sixth, Fourth, Twenty-first and Twenty-second streets and Crescent avenue. The system as outlined will afford excellent service as a passenger and freight-carrying road.

Attorney "Billy" Dunn and George E. Pilisbury were here in the interest of the Pacific Electric Company.

Attorney "Billy" Dunn and George E. Pilisbury were here in the interest of the Facific Electric Company. After the meeting of the board they departed in a launch for Long Beach, whence they went to Los-Angeles. Mr. Dunn said that the Huntington people will begin work on the road within a few weeks, and he believes cars will be in operation in less than six months. "Nothing definite has been decided as to the route we will take from Los Angeles," said Mr. Dunn. "I cannot say for certain whether the Long Beach line will be extended or not, We have practically all the material needed, such as rails, ties, etc., and the people of San Pedro may rest assured that Mr. Huntington will put up a first-class road."

While citizens are pleased at the idea of having a new company in here, they regard the price paid for the franchise ridiculously low, many expressing regret that the Traction and Southern Pacific did not bid.

SHIPPING NEWS.

How to Say.

The Interstate Commerce Commission expects to hear two cases of interest to Southern California citrusfruit growers in Los Angeles December 18. The United States Marshal was so informed yesterday in a communication from Edward A. Moseley of Washington, D. C., secretary of the commission, who requested the use of the Federal Courtroom in the Tajo building at that time.

When asked yesterday what the cases involving the orange growers and the railroads would be. Vice-President Story of the Southern California Fruit Exchange was inclined to refrain from saying much on the subject for publication, and stated that certain agreements have just been arrived at between growers and transportation companies which may do away with the increasity of the proposed visit of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

One of these questions, which was to have come up before the commission concerns the price of refrigeration of fruit per car, which price has hitherto been unsatisfactory to shippers.

Mr. Story stated yesterday that an agreement on a reduction for refrigeration, which is at least temporarily satisfactory, was made by the railroads during the recent trip East of A. F. Nafizzer, president of the Southern California Fruit Exchange. The new case of the commission are made from five different points, and now average about 375 per car as against $90 at the old rate:

Whether the question of freight rates on citrus fruit will be brought before the commission held its last

She was at an upper window gazing disconsolately toward the empty poultry houze when her glance happened to stray to the yard of her neighbor. She saw the turkey tethered to the post. Instantly she thought she recognized it as her favorite gobbler. It was a case of mistaken identity, but there is much of sameness in turkeys.

Ah, so he was the thief! But where were the others? Doubtless he had made way with them. Here her tears flowed again. It was a melancholy satisfaction to think how perfectly she and diagnosed the stranger's character at that chance meeting so many weeks before, but it was not a material comfort.

Meanwhile there was equal distress.
